THE GRAND COMMANDERY OF
KNIGHTS TEMPLAR
OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

FOREWORD

In order to stimulate interest in the ceremonies and to acquire a high degree of proficiency, the officers should become thoroughly familiar with commands and movements, before attempting to open the Commandery. It is bound to discourage the most enthusiastic Knight if he is compelled to stand at attention while the officers learn their work, and the Officer who believes that it is the duty of Sir Knights to attend the conclaves should remember that the Knights have a right to expect the same Officer to know how and when to give commands before attempting to do so. Preliminary practice in the Asylum by the officers, individually or collectively, will amply reward them.
